Media Distribution Policy

This website, www.paralympic.org.au and <http://vancouver2010.paralympic.org.au>, is owned and operated by the Australian Paralympic Committee (APC).

The media centre has been developed by the Australian Paralympic Committee to assist media organisations in their development of material on Paralympic Sport and the Australian Paralympic Committee.

The Australian Paralympic Committee wishes to assist media organisations by providing usable content, including, but not limited to, images, information and video content.

The Australian Paralympic Committee is entitled at its sole discretion to change, modify, amend, add or remove any features of the website at any time without notice.

Media wishing to re-use material sourced from the website, www.paralympic.org.au and <http://vancouver2010.paralympic.org.au>, must reference where appropriate the Australian Paralympic Committee as the source of the material.

Materials may be reproduced, reused, adapted or redistributed without express permission from the Australian Paralympic Committee based on compliance with the above condition.

The material on this site is made available on the understanding that users exercise their own care with respect to its use.

Before relying on the material in any important matter, users should carefully evaluate the accuracy, completeness and relevance of the information, and should obtain appropriate professional advice relevant to their particular circumstances.

The material on this site may include views and recommendations of individuals, which do not necessarily reflect the positions of the Australian Paralympic Committee.

Links to external web sites are inserted for convenience and do not constitute endorsement of material at those sites, or any associated organisation, product or service.

The Australian Paralympic Committee is not responsible for the content or privacy practices, including content redistribution policies, of web sites linked to www.paralympic.org.au.
