² 'Improperly' in this context means not in accordance with standard sets of behaviour accepted in the participant's sport. Some practices in a sport may, when applying a strict interpretation without context, be seen as Prohibited Conduct, however, given the behaviour is culturally acceptable among participants and spectators of the sport, this conduct is, therefore, deemed not 'improper'. Refer to Appendix A: Examples of Prohibited Conduct for examples of acceptable and improper practices.

³ Examples may include, but not limited to, intentionally conceding points, pre-arranging the outcome of a competition, deliberate underperformance (also known as 'tanking') in any manner (through selections or not playing to a person's merits), influencing athlete selections and strategy, or intentional unfair or incorrect officiating. Refer to Appendix A: Examples of Prohibited Conduct for examples.

⁴ For the avoidance of doubt, this does not include any matters dealt with under other relevant policies relating to anti-doping, eligibility, gender identity or selection criteria.

⁶ Facilitating or assisting includes communicating in any way, including but not limited to in-person communication, using a mobile phone, computer or other electronic device, information that might give another person an unfair advantage if they were to engage in betting related to that information, other than as required as part of their official duties.

Allegations relating to Intentional Misrepresentation must be submitted to either PA or the International Federation in accordance with their relevant policies and procedures, whichever has jurisdiction over the matter as set out in the PA Classification Policy.
- (b) Complaints or Reports of Prohibited Conduct under this Policy will be managed in accordance with the PA Complaints, Disputes and Discipline Policy. Allegations relating to Intentional Misrepresentation will be managed in accordance with the relevant policies of either PA or the International Federation as applicable.
- (c) Notification by a Relevant Person under clause 4.1(g) may be made verbally or in writing by the Relevant Person and may be made anonymously if there is a genuine concern of reprisal. A Relevant Person who makes a report anonymously is responsible for keeping a record that will allow them to confirm that they have met their obligations under clause 4.1(g).

6. Other Matters

6.1 Education

- (a) In order to prevent breaches of this policy, build positive behaviours in sport and protect participants from competition manipulation and associated sports gambling threats, PA is responsible for developing and implementing an education plan addressing the content and subject matter of this Policy.
- (b) PA should engage Sport Integrity Australia to assist in the design, implementation, and maintenance of the education plan and to determine priority education groups and associated interventions.
- (c) PA may, from time to time, direct certain Participants to undertake education, which will be relevant and proportionate to their level of participation in Activities and the associated integrity risks.
- (d) Sport Integrity Australia has developed a range of education resources and training material to support the National Integrity Framework which can be found here. PA has no responsibility for these resources.

6.2 Information sharing

- (a) PA may share information (including Personal Information as defined in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth)) at any time relating to Relevant Persons with Wagering Service Providers, law enforcement agencies, government agencies or other sporting organisations to prevent, identify and investigate alleged Prohibited Conduct, or to comply with relevant state and territory or national regulation or legislation, subject to the Privacy Act.
- (b) PA may share information they receive relating to competition manipulation and sports betting with Sport Integrity Australia to enable Sport Integrity Australia to effectively perform its functions.

⁷ This does not apply if the reporting is not permitted by law.

- (c) In sharing information, PA will remain bound by the legal obligations contained in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and PA's Privacy Policy.
- (d) Relevant Persons must disclose information to PA regarding all of their commercial agreements, interests, and connections with Wagering Service Providers to the extent that these are relevant to Activities. For the avoidance of doubt, this does not include the disclosure of accounts that Relevant Persons may hold with Wagering Service Providers.
- (e) PA may request information from Wagering Service Providers to identify incidents of suspicious or prohibited betting transactions (including single or multiple betting transactions or market fluctuations) that may indicate or tend to indicate that Relevant Persons have engaged in Prohibited Conduct under this Policy.
- (f) To enable the Wagering Service Provider to provide such information, PA may, from time to time and subject to any terms and conditions imposed by an Affiliate Organisation (including in relation to confidentiality and privacy), provide to Wagering Service Providers details of Relevant Persons who are precluded by this Policy from engaging in Prohibited Conduct.
- (g) All requests for information or provision of information by PA or a Wagering Service Provider shall be kept strictly confidential and shall not be divulged to any third party or otherwise made use of, except where required by law or by this Policy, is permitted by PA or Wagering Service Provider, or where information is already in the public domain other than because of a breach of this Policy.

6.3 Gambling Sponsorship within PA

- (a) PA may enter into a commercial arrangement with a Wagering Service Provider from time to time, subject to any applicable legislative requirements.
- (b) Subject to clause 6.3(a). Relevant Person or Relevant Organisation must not:
 - (i) enter into any form of commercial arrangement with a Wagering Service Provider in relation to an Activity;
 - (ii) induce, advertise or promote betting on an Activity, without the prior permission of PA; or
 - (iii) promote or endorse a Wagering Service Provider in connection with an Activity.

Appendix A: Examples of Prohibited Conduct

1. For the purposes of clause 4.1(a)i. of this Policy, examples of Prohibited Conduct whereby a Relevant Person participates (whether by act or omission) in improperly altering the result or the course of an Activity in order to remove all or part of the unpredictable nature of the Activity to obtain a Benefit for themselves or others include, but are not limited to:
 - (a) intentionally conceding points;
 - (b) pre-arranging the outcome, or the course of a competition, including through influencing athlete selections and strategy;
 - (c) deliberate underperformance (also known as 'tanking') in any manner (through selections or not playing to a person's merits), including for the intention to progress to an easier draw, or for the intention of benefiting a 'friendly' opponent;
 - (d) intentional unfair or incorrect officiating.

2. However, 'improperly' in this context means not in accordance with standard sets of behaviour accepted in Para-sport. Some practices in Para-sport may, when applying a strict interpretation without context, be seen as Prohibited Conduct; however, that conduct is in accordance with standard sets of behaviour accepted in Para-sport. The following does not constitute Prohibited Conduct, include, but are not limited to:
 - (a) drafting, for example, in an open water swimming race or in a triathlon race;
 - (b) selecting specific athletes for a qualification event to maximise entry quotas of the associated club or representative team/squad;
 - (c) resting players/athletes for a legitimate competitive objective such as the development of the team or other players, or the management of player fatigue or injuries;
 - (d) resting players/athletes from a match or race of a competition to maximise a team performance in the finals; or
 - (e) not selecting a player for an entire series or tour to provide them with an extended rest period in preparation for a future series or tour.

Appendix B: Examples of Direct and Indirect Connections for a Relevant Person

1. A Relevant Person has a direct connection to an Activity if they are:
 - (a) an Athlete participating/competing in the Activity;
 - (b) a coach or support personnel of a Team or Athlete participating in the Activity;
 - (c) a trainer/para-medical of a Team or Athlete participating in the Activity;
 - (d) a referee, umpire, technical official, judge, or official, of the Activity appointed by a Relevant Organisation;
 - (e) An Employee, Contractor, or Volunteer involved in the organisation of the Activity.

2. A Relevant Person has an indirect connection to an Activity if (but not limited to):
 - (a) the Activity is a single race, match, or competition the Relevant Person does not directly participate in; however, it is a part of a series, tournament, or season competition, of which the Relevant Person participates in, or is directly connected to. For example, if a Relevant Person's team competes in a series which involves another nine teams in a 10-round draw, that Relevant Person is prohibited from betting on any match in the entire series.
 - (b) they are an Employee, Contractor, or Volunteer with a Relevant Organisation organising the Activity. For example, if the Relevant Person is an Employee, Contractor, or Volunteer of PA and the PA organises the national championships, the Relevant Person is prohibited from betting on any competition, match, or race of that national championships.
 - (c) the Activity includes participants competing on behalf of a Relevant Organisation and the Relevant Person is an Employee, Contractor, or Volunteer of that Relevant Organisation. For example, if a regional representative team is competing at the state championships, an Employee, Contractor, or Volunteer of the relevant regional association is prohibited from betting on any Activity at those state championships.

For the avoidance of doubt, simply being an Individual Member of a Relevant Organisation does not imply an indirect relationship to the Activity. For example, an Individual Member of a Member Organisation, in the absence of any direct or indirect connection, is not prohibited from betting on an Activity that includes state or national Participants.
